Post Communion

Lord of all mercy,
we your faithful people have celebrated that one true sacrifice which takes away our sins and brings pardon and peace: by our communion keep us firm on the foundation of the gospel and preserve us from all sin;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Welcome to St. Peter's. We hope you will come again.

Giving to the Work of the Church

By using (and completing) one of our gift envelopes, the value of your contribution is increased by 25p for every £1 given (if you are a standard rate taxpayer). The parish is dependent, solely on the offerings of the congregation for its day-to-day running. If you would like to know details of how to give regularly, please speak to the Treasurer, June Price (208277)

Pew Slip - we like to keep the Pew Slip as up to date and informative as possible. Please let Colin Swait (01483 425380) know by the middle of the week (or in his absence, Anne Eve) if there are any items you would like to be included.

Collect

O God, you declare your almighty power most chiefly in showing mercy and pity: mercifully grant to us such a measure of your grace, that we, running the way of your commandments, may receive your gracious promises, and be made partakers of your heavenly treasure; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

FROM RUTTON - Hello again everyone, and I hope the weather is being kind to you now, even if the train strikes and the cost of living are not. Nevertheless, we live in faith, and we trust in God, and we try and give to those who are probably a LOT worse off than us, no matter how bad the news headlines. Us Christians are perverse like that! What of the not very green-fingered minister? You cry. What botanical nonsense has he made of things this week? Well, the plant pots and the compost and the seedlings and all the rest of it sat on the dining room table for a week, until my wife got fed up with the whole business. Something about 'actually eating a meal on a table' or something. I did not catch it exactly – I was preparing a sermon at the time. Anyway, fortunately, my daughter came to the rescue, and helped me plant all the things in the right pots and the right potholders, with the right handfuls of dirt and gravel scattered all over the dining room. ("Dad, I think we should have done this outside!" Etc.)

Of course, finding the right compost and gravel for the right pot, for the right potholder, for the right plant, was a study in ergonomics all to itself. Which I duly failed, hence the need for help. Aforementioned daughter took a dim view of general pathetic-ness of Dad trying to 'Do Something Simple', but that's OK, I am used to it. And she did, after all, help.

The tropical plants are now looking very thoughtful in their new pots in the study and are probably reflecting on the whole nature and challenge of 'change'. Aren't we all. The foxglove seeds are steaming up nicely in their electric propagator, and I am wondering if they're going to really get going, because it says, plant in April, and I was too busy in April.

How does anyone or anything grow with all these handicaps and restrictions? It's a miracle to me. Maybe no one told the wildflowers they ought properly to find the right pot, and the right soil, and the right time of year. Maybe they just figured it all out all by themselves.

More news on that soon, but in the meantime there's lots more exciting developments coming up in September. First of all, we have our second family service at Dunsfold on the 4th September, and then, on Dunsfold Common, we have a joint pet service at 10 am on the 11th September. This will be a big set piece for us, and a fantastic way of connecting further with the villages. Do please come and support these new initiatives, as well, of course, all our other regular services.

Then, the adventure continues with a new adult confirmation class evening course, just four weeks long, just one hour per session, and that starts on the 7th September, and runs for four weeks: It's 6:30 pm to 7:30 pm, and the first one is at : 3 Stream Gardens, Hascombe on 7th September The other dates are 21st and 28th September and 5th October.

If you are interested in exploring Christian faith, or if you just need a brush-up, this relaxed and good-fun course is for you. (I myself learn a lot every time!)

See you soon – and please contact me on anything .
